Friendly reminder: If you are not an Irish citizen, please check your passport expiration date today and look up your country's agreement with Ireland – in the U.S., passport renewals have been a bit delayed, so please plan ahead and get your renewal application in early so you can travel to Dublin with us in 2024!

Note: If you are a U.S. citizen intending to go anywhere in the EU after or before the conference, your passport must have an expiration date at least 3 months after the date you intend to leave the EU. This does not apply to Ireland, where a valid passport is sufficient (just another reason to love Ireland!).

BIOLOGY OF REPRODUCTION

Publish Your Work in BOR

October Editor's Choice

As a member of SSR, Biology of Reproduction is your journal! BOR is one of the leading journals in the field of reproductive biology, and we encourage members to submit their work. Learn more about the many benefits of publishing with BOR at <https://academic.oup.com/biolreprod/pages/why-publish>.

Don't miss our featured Editor's Choice research in the October issue of Biology of Reproduction, "Proteomic analysis of zebrafish folliculogenesis identifies YB-1 (Ybx1/ybx1) as a potential gatekeeping molecule controlling early ovarian folliculogenesis." SSR ON THE ROAD

SSR is currently attending the ASRM Annual Meeting from October 14-18 in New Orleans. In addition to exhibiting at booth #1245, see what else SSR has been up to below!

- SSR hosted an all-day pre-conference workshop on Sunday, October 15th titled: Differences in Sexual Development and Gender Identity – Recent Developments and Prospects for Reproductive Medicine.
- ASRM/SSR hosted a Scientist and Physicians Advancing Reproductive Knowledge (SPARK) Program interest breakfast on Tuesday, October 17th.
- The 2022 SSR Research Award winner Marisa Bartolomei, PhD, University of Pennsylvania, presented a keynote lecture titled: To Biopsy or Not To Biopsy: Epigenetic Lessons from a Mouse ART Model on Tuesday, October 17th.

This edition of the SSR Newsletter is sponsored by Réseau Québécois en Reproduction \(RQR\).

Thank you!
