In This Issue:

BoR Winners Webinar | Annual Conference Updates | SSR Reflects | Call for Volunteers

WEBINARS

Last Chance - The BoR Winners Webinar is Happening TODAY

The final BOR Winners Webinar is here! Join us THIS EVENING from 5-6pm ET.

Topic: Microvesicles and Exosomes Released by Amnion Epithelial Cells under Oxidative Stress Cause Inflammatory Changes in Uterine Cells

Speaker: Dr. Ramkumar Menon, Division of Maternal-Fetal Medicine and Perinatal Research, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, The University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston

Register Now & Learn More!

ANNUAL CONFERENCE UPDATES

Early Bird Deadline Extended Through Monday, May 15th!

In case you missed the good news, early bird registration for the SSR 56th Annual Meeting has been extended through Monday, May 15th! If you have not yet registered, now is the time to do so. After May 15th, prices will increase. Reconnect with your colleagues and join the many already registered!

Please note that you must be logged in to your SSR account to access early bird registration. While registering, make sure you check out the schedule, book your hotel, and learn more about the speakers and session topics.

Register Here
Visit the Conference Site

Virtual Conference Registration will be available in June! We will have recordings of many of the sessions presented in Ottawa available for purchase.

Late-Breaking Abstracts are Here!

As promised, SSR is now accepting Late-Breaking Abstracts. Do not miss out on this special opportunity to submit an abstract by Monday, May 15th. As a reminder, we encourage abstracts based on work using diverse species.

Note: Late-breaking abstracts will be considered for Poster Presentations only and will not be eligible for awards.

Learn More & Submit Here

NEW ON THE BLOG

Meet Dr. Jean-Ju Chung

In celebration of AAPI Heritage Month, Dr. Zhibing Zhang (SSR’s Diversity committee) sat down with Dr. Jean-Ju Chung from Yale School of Medicine to learn about her work, career, and thoughts on the challenges she faced during the pandemic. Dr. Jean-Ju Chung is an Associate Professor of Cellular and Molecular Physiology at Yale School of Medicine. She currently leads a research lab focusing on uncovering the role of ion channels in reproductive physiology. Keep reading to learn more!

Read the Full Blog

NEWS & UPDATES

Call for 2023 SSR Volunteers

Are you passionate about the reproductive sciences and looking to make a meaningful impact in the field? Our 2023 Call for Volunteers is open now and you’re invited to apply! As a volunteer, you will play a critical role in shaping the direction of the Society and advancing the field of reproductive science. Learn more and apply by May 26, 2023!

Learn More

Are You the Next Editor in Chief of Biology of Reproduction?

The Society for the Study of Reproduction has commenced a search for successors to the current Editors-in-Chief of Biology of Reproduction. We are now seeking applicants for the position of Editor(s)-in-Chief, whose duties will start officially on July 1, 2025 and extend through June 30, 2029.

To learn more about the responsibilities of the Editor(s) in Chief and the application process, please visit this page.

Learn More

Nominations Requested for the 2023 RV Short Medal and Lecture

The Society for Reproductive Biology (SRB, Australasia), the Society for Reproduction and Fertility (SRF, UK) and the Society for the Study of Reproduction (SSR, North America) are delighted to announce the RV Short Medal and Lecture as an exciting new initiative to recognise emerging early career researchers across the globe.

The initiative has been developed by Marilyn Renfree, Jock Findlay, and the Presidents/Chairs of the SRB, SRF and SSR. Further information on the award, the criteria, and the process by which you can nominate can be accessed here.

Learn More

SSR Seeking Booth Volunteers at ESHRE

Are you attending the European Society of Human Reproduction & Embryology (ESHRE) Annual Meeting taking place in Copenhagen, Denmark from 25-28 June 2023? You can help SSR members and potential members! Please contact the Executive Director to sign up as a volunteer to spend an hour or two at the SSR booth to help answer questions about the Society and share your SSR experience.

Can’t volunteer? That’s okay, stop by and say hello, we’d love to see you. Please email membership@ssr.org if you are interested, and we will reach out to you regarding your availability during the event.

Learn More

This edition of the SSR Newsletter is sponsored by CReATe Fertility Centre. Thank you!

Connect with SSR

Contact us at SSR
About SSR:
The Society for the Study of Reproduction (SSR) was founded in 1967 to promote the study of reproduction by fostering interdisciplinary communication among scientists, holding conferences, and publishing meritorious studies. Today, our members come from 50 countries around the world.