

Death of Dr. Jennifer Dorrington

Email Announcement

It is with great sadness that we would like to inform you about the death of Prof. Jennifer Dorrington on September 30 2001, after a long battle against cancer.

Jennifer was educated in Sheffield, England, and came to the Banting and Best Department of Medical Research, Toronto, in 1971, where she first worked together with Irving Fritz on the regulation of Sertoli cell steroid production. Later she established her own group at the Banting and Best and became interested in ovarian physiology. Jennifer has been a long time member of the SSR and has served on several committees.

It has been a privilege to me to have known Jennifer Dorrington and collaborated closely with her for so many years. She will be greatly missed by us all.

On behalf of the family,

Katja J. Teerds
Dept. Biochemistry and Cell Biology
Utrecht University, The Netherlands

Newspaper Obituary

Wednesday, October 3, 2001—Print Edition, Toronto Globe and Mail

DORRINGTON, Dr. Jennifer (Former Professor at Banting & Best Institute at the University of Toronto; Co-Founder and Director of Cells for Life)

After a lengthy battle with cancer, peacefully at her home on Sunday, September 30, 2001. Jennifer, beloved mother of Mark and Ramona, Jonathan and Jodie, Emma and Rainer and loving grandmother of John and Jena.

Lovingly remembered by her mother, brothers and sisters. A private family service will be held. Arrangements entrusted to the Dixon-Garland Funeral Home (905-294-2030). In lieu of flowers, donations to the Sunnybrook Hospital Cancer Research Fund would be appreciated.