

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of Dr. Robert "Bob" Milvae on Monday March 21, 2022. Dr. Milvae was a beloved teacher, mentor, and researcher at the University of Connecticut for over 35 years. His research investigating the mechanisms regulating ruminant luteal function contributed greatly to improving reproductive management of dairy cows and sheep. Dr. Milvae's love for the Society for the Study of Reproduction was almost as strong as his love of teaching. He will be missed by his family, his students, and the numerous members of the society that called him friend.

Bob's obituary is available at <https://www.legacy.com/us/obituaries/hartfordcourant/name/robert-milvae-obituary?id=33860432>