

The Society for the Study of Reproduction (“Society”) is a nonprofit society organized to promote the study of reproduction by fostering interdisciplinary communication within the science through conferences, and by publishing meritorious studies. All members receive the Society’s regular publications and are invited to the annual and special meetings of the Society; Regular Members may hold office, elect Directors and Officers of the Board, nominate Members, and change the Bylaws.

Membership in the Society is open to individuals or organizations demonstrating active interest in the field of reproduction and related areas. Membership is conferred upon approval by the Membership Committee and is activated upon payment of dues.

GUIDELINES FOR MEMBERSHIP

REGULAR MEMBER:

- Regular membership in the Society shall be conferred by the Membership Committee on the basis of scientific productivity and continuing interest in the field of reproduction or related areas.
- A nominee must have a doctorate or demonstrate its equivalent in scientific accomplishments.

ASSOCIATE MEMBER:

- Individuals who are research associates or senior technicians engaged in research activities in the area of reproduction.
- Individuals interested in the science of reproductive biology but not actively engaged in research.
- Individuals engaged in full-time clinical practice who have not published and do not expect to publish in the area of reproduction.

TRAINEE MEMBER:

Any student (undergraduate, graduate, or post-doctoral) in training in the field of reproductive biology is eligible for Trainee membership.

AFFILIATE MEMBER: (for SRB Members Only)

The Society for the Study of Reproduction and the Society for Reproductive Biology (SRB) have agreed to offer Affiliate Membership in each other’s respective Society. Affiliate members of SSR receive an online subscription to the BOR Journal, listing in the member directory and access to SSR’s online communities. Affiliate members DO NOT receive the member BOR publishing rates and cannot nominate, vote, hold office and serve on SSR Committees.

DUES STRUCTURE:

Membership is based on the calendar year. Dues are established by the Board of Directors. Membership includes an online subscription to Biology of Reproduction. Receipt of dues activates membership and the subscription.
